Dear Bidder,

Thank you for attending The Liquidation Auction at the former America's Factory Outlet. We appreciate your attendance and participation. There are two different types of merchandise being offered: unprocessed return merchandise and processed/remanufactured/new. Due to the closing of the business and the nature of cataloging this auction in short order to ensure a smooth-running single-day clearance auction, best practices have been used to not overstate the quality of the items offered.

There exists the possibility of the Auctioneer or the company representatives having made mistakes in cataloging and describing items made available for auction both in written and verbal form. While we hope that our mistakes are in your favor, there is always the chance that items that are described as remanufactured, inspected or tested being inoperative, just as there are multiple and very good chances of unknown and unprocessed being absolutely brand-new items returned for a reason at no fault to the item. As such, the condition, quality and fitness of the items offered are, at the end of the day, sold without any warranty or guarantee – AS-IS, WHERE-IS at the fall of the gavel.

We ask for your understanding and again thank you for your participation!
